CONNECT WITH YOUR FOODBANK

An experience you won't forget

There are many ways to support local hunger-relief efforts through volunteerism at your Foodbank. With two locations and a variety of volunteer opportunities available, we hope to welcome you soon!

Volunteering is proven to improve physical and mental health, provides a sense of purpose and teaches valuable skills. Plus, friendships abound when you volunteer at your Foodbank!

School groups, corporations and businesses, faith-based organizations and groups of all sizes will enjoy a unique team building experience and enhanced community connection, all while directly impacting neighbors experiencing hunger.

Matching incentives

Many of our corporate and business partners encourage their employees to get involved by matching volunteer hours and/or financial contributions with a monetary donation. Each time a company leverages a match in this way, we see an increase in employee giving. Engaged supporters love doubling their impact!

Food & funds drives

Coordinating a food and funds drive is an impactful way to volunteer as a group in the fight against hunger. By collecting both food and funds, participants can see their collective impact come to life through organizing donations, raising awareness and supporting the effort with their time. Food donations help stock shelves, while financial gifts go a long way. $1 = 3 meals!
